NEW CABLE OFFICE OPENED

A district telegraph and cable office has been established for Hull, Nantasket, Cohasset, Hingham and Weymouth,
at Hingham, with Mr. W. S. Richardson, who has long been in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph and Cable Company as manager. The office is in the new building at Hingham, opposite the railroad station. This is a great convenience to the people having boats in the service, as cables per word to enlisted men "over there" is only six cents.
Mr. Richardson is also prepared to handle foreign and domestic money orders.
This also is of inestimable value to parents and friends of our boys in the U. S. service.

A SCRAP OF PAPER

As Miss Hilda Smith, bookkeeper for the Allerton fish market, was on her way to work on Monday morning she saw lying in the road what she at first thought to be merely a soiled piece of paper. Thinking, however, that it looked like a check, she picked it up and found that it was a check for quite a large amount. The parties whose names were on the check being unknown to her,
after some unsuccessful attempt to locate the owner, she called on Mr. Sullivan of the B street garage, who knew the gentleman and said he would notify him that his check had been found and where to call for it, which he accordingly did. The gentleman called for his check and we are glad to say the young lady received a reward, which she generously turned over to the Allerton
Special Aid.

MAKES GOOD

Horace G. Ettinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ettinger, of Waveland, was home this week for a short visit to his family. He is looking and feeling well, and has lately passed successfully for a high private and also taken that most difficult test for truck drivers, which is shown in last Sunday's Globe, which he also passed with flying colors. He is now classed as a wagoner or truck driver. The promotion carries with it a considerable raise of pay. He is in Co.
D, 801st Ammunition Train and expects soon to go overseas.

ALLERTON CABLES

The Allerton cables under the management of G. J. Braman, is doing a good business. This is the first season this well known hotel at Allerton has been under the sole management of Mr.
Braman, who has had many experiences in hotel keeping. He has thoroughly renovated the house and will conduct it strictly first class. It has a cool dining room, pleasant rooms, good food. Mr.
and Mrs. Braman give their personal attention to every detail.

KINDLY DEED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cronin of Cambridge, daughter Doris and son Alan, are located pleasantly at Waveland this year. Miss Ruth Horan, a niece is with them. Mrs. Cronin drives a handsome limousine with skill and she generously shared it with a wayfarer who had lost the host train.

ANNUAL SALE.

Reciprocity is one of the pet doctrines of the Scituate Woman's Club and on Thursday afternoon, July 11, at 2 o'clock, that doctrine is going to be tested out. For some time now the greater part of the social functions and benefits, theatricals, dancing parties and society gatherings have been held in the pretty home of the club. If there was any contributions to the Red Cross, the various war funds or in support of government enterprises, the rent was cheerfully contributed to the occasion.
Thursday has been chosen by the officers of the club as the day for their annual food sale and it will be an excellent opportunity for those who have accepted the generous offer of the club for their functions to reciprocate by giving generously during the hours of the sale. The busy buyer knows that the funds expended will not be in the nature of a contribution to charity, or even a worthy undertaking, for every purchase made at this annual sale is worth more than the actual value in money charged for it.

South Shore kitchens, war gardens and local orchards will be drawn on to supply the heavy demands of the afternoon, but a little word to the experienced buyer at this carnival of luscious vegetables. Come early and be prepared to buy largely, for no feminine fancy can resist the appeal of the goodies that will be found there.

Cake and bread will be sold by Mrs.
Helen Edison, Mrs. Edith Curtis, Mrs.
Annie J. Littlefield, Mrs. Martha Turner;
Annie J. Littlefield, recording secretary;
Mrs. Mary A. Doherty and Mrs. Esther Cole; ice cream is to be dispensed by Mrs. Tillie Walls and Mrs. Martha Mitchell.

Officers of the club for the year are
Mrs. Emma F. Cudworth, pres.; Mrs.
Martha Mitchell, 1st vice-pres.; Mrs.
Florence Wilson, 2d vice-pres.; Mrs. Annie J. Littlefield, recording secretary;
Mrs. Tillie Walls, cor. secretary; Mrs.
Mary E. Walbach, treas.; Miss Mary W.
Perry, auditor. Directors are Mrs.
Helen Edison, Mrs. Edith Curtis, Mrs.
Martha Turner, Mrs. Mary A. Doherty,
Mrs. Esther Cole.

SERVICE CLUB.

The opening of the Service Club at the Atlantic Club on Saturday was successfully accomplished. This club is conducted under the auspices of the South
Shore War Camp Service Community
Committee authorized by the Boston branch of that committee. Mr. George Cole of Hingham, chairman, Mrs. J. E.
Campbell, chairman of local committee.
Miss Mary James of Hingham is chairman of the Cape Cod Committee. The credit is due the Hingham ladies for the prodigious amount of work accomplished
on Saturday.

THE COMMUNITY MARKET.

The Community Market, as an organization to bring together the producer and the consumer, proved its worth here in Cohasset last summer. There was, however, one great drawback: not enough farmers brought in their produce to satisfy the demand. The children responded well with their garden produce, and should do so again. Here is an unusual market with good prices. The Beckwood and Scituate farmers should wake up to their opportunities to get good prices for their vegetables, practically at home. Many haul their loads into Quincy and Boston, when they are assured of a good market and prices right here in Cohasset. Fresh fish, fruits and berries are in great demand.
The Community Market will meet on the little common at the Harbor every Wednesday and Saturday from 8 a. m.
until noon, beginning Wednesday, July 17.

A TEST OF CITIZENSHIP

"Tell me what you do with your rubbish," said the fireman, "and I can tell you what kind of a citizen you are. If you dispose carefully of every bit of broken furniture, all your old newspapers, papers, your rags, worn out clothing, and all rubbish of that kind, you are a good citizen. But, if you allow them to accumulate you not only are a bad citizen, but a menace to the community."

"How many residents of Hull appreciate their individual responsibility in the intelligent care of rubbish, hot ashes, old cloths, and in the use of matches, gasoline, fireplaces and so on,
under this season's conditions?" remarked a citizen who knows something of insurance and fire department matters, the other day.

Because of its light wooden construction and peculiar area, as well as its ex-posure to ocean winds, a fire well started would eat up a large section and burn itself out, even if the up-to-date equipment of a large city was at hand with plenty of water.

At the time of the serious Paragon Park fire in 1916 the water supply was short, but the Hull Department, with help from Quincy, Cohasset and Hingham, all experienced fire fighters, did well to save more than half of the park property and to keep the fire from spreading.

During a political upset in the Hull Department early this year a large number of trained men went out, with the result that there is today a large quota of call and untrained men than in many years.

Facts that should be known are,
that the water mains laid years ago are not properly placed, or large enough to serve the present population.

Fire alarm boxes are too few in number, and if the telephone service was even temporarily crippled there might be serious delay in getting word to headquarters.

The apparatus has been put in good shape at the insistence of the insurance people, who have large liabilities on buildings and contents.
Many of the call firemen have had limited training in fire fighting and are unfamiliar with the location of alarm boxes.

The Department has no ladder truck which responds to alarms and would be handicapped in handling res in the hotels and a few other buildings more than two stories high.

The situation cited means that it is the moral duty of every resident, permanent or temporary, tax-payer, renter or hotel guest to exercise all possible in eliminating fire breeding conditions. Furthermore, this is their patriotic duty, as all fire damage is waste whether insured or not, and in war time every dollar wasted lessens the efficiency of the country, and has been likened to a shot in the back of an American soldier.

All residents should assume personal responsibility to the end that there is no accumulation of rubbish on their premises.
That chimneys and electric wiring is in good condition.

That safety (scratch on the box)
matches only are used and the supply kept in tin or earthen receptacles.

That kerosene stoves and lamps are kept clean and are filled by day-light.

That open fires are out, or that openings are completely covered before retiring.

That no grass or rubbish fires are set near any buildings, and that there is a pail of water or a garden hose at hand.

That there is no smoking in garages;
gasoline safely kept and premises clean,
with good ventilation.

Finally, approved chemical extinguishers are practical devices, and one on each floor of a residence would prove of most practical value in case of an accidental fire. The insurance companies make no rate allowance for portable extinguishers.

Seriously, fire conditions in Hull are more than ordinarily hazardous this year and there is no time or money to lay proper water mains, provide more alarm boxes, or to build up a 100 per cent trained fire department force to meet present conditions.

Accordingly it is directly up to each citizen, not only to make and keep his own property clean and safe, but to report dangerous conditions, wherever found, to fire department headquarters.

Summer residents have a high hazard
at best, but each of us must see to it that if we should have a bad fire in Hull this summer it cannot be traced to preventable conditions.

Hot Weather Poisons Hit The Stomach First

How to Keep Your Stomach Strong, Cool and Sweet

Hot weather always starts those quick chemical changes which produce poisons in meats, fish, fruits, vegetables, milk and food products. Such summer poisons in foods not only make you sick but develop with dangerous rapidity in sensitive, sick or ailing stomachs and bowels.

These poisons not only generate gases and fluids which cause that bloated, lumpy feeling, heartburn, sour stomach, belching, acidity, but endless other stomach and bowel miseries. A sure, safe, quick acting relief has been found which absorbs and neutralizes these poisons, too much acid and harmful gases. EATONIC Tablets, one or two taken after every meal, will keep your stomach sweet. You will have a good appetite to eat what you like, when you want it and be free from all those bad effects liable to come after a hearty meal in summer.

EATONIC Tablets are hot weather protectors for the stomach. They guard against the germs that lurk in the things you eat and drink. They rebuild wasted appetites, promote digestion by aiding proper action of the stomach functions and insure speedy relief from indigestion and all stomach disorders.

EATONIC is good to eat like candy. People from all over send grateful testimonials. Testimonials are being obtained right now with EATONIC every day but the best evidence is to let your stomach tell you the truth. Go to your druggist and get a big box of EATONIC. Tell him you want it for the prevention and cure of stomach and bowel disorders produced by hot weather poisons.

Then if EATONIC fails to satisfy you—return it to your druggist, whom you know and can trust. He will cheerfully refund your money. EATONIC—drop us a postal. It will be delivered to your address and you can then say for Address: H. K. Krassner, President S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Dummy Airplanes.

Aviators from training camps throughout the country are completing their education in aerial gunnery at the finishing school near Lake Charles, La. The targets are reproductions of a German "tube" airplane placed on the surface of the lake and with a black cross painted thereon to represent the enemy pilot, the principal mark for the gunners.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out"? Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out" wearied feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bile? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, and thus be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.

STORIES of AMERICAN CITIES

Mrs. Brown Bear Resented Spouse's Playfulness

SAN FRANCISCO.—Grim tragedy hangs over Bear Hollow in the ravine at the camp—tragedy symbolized by a weeping spouse who grieves before the latest golden star to be added to the honor roll of Great Lakes. From the time of their enrollment as rookies in detention two weeks ago, John and Susie Bear led an ideal life. John would nose out the choicest tidbits from his rifle rations and slip them to Susie for dessert, and Susie in turn would lie for hours scratching John's back.

But behind this lovely picture of conjugal bliss stalked the specter of death. Yesterday morning, it appears, John, upon being awakened by the rosy hues of dawn reached over and gave Susie a bear hug. Her eyes fluttering open, Susie reciprocated by wallowing John playfully in the law. This bit of tenderness resulted in John biting Susie on the left hind foot, a display of affection which led Susie to claw two yards of fur off John's spinal column.

John was quite willing to let it go at that for the time being. But the love of a woman, once aroused, is a dangerous thing, especially that of a cave-lady.

"Someone had better hurry and rescue Johnnie Bear!" shouted a recruit, rushing into Ensign Sharpe's office a few minutes later. "Susie's got him down and is biting and tearing the hide off'n him."

Members of the guard dashed into Bear Hollow—but it was too late. Even as they appeared, John rolled out from Susie's claws and lay with glassy eyes staring into the blue heavens. He was dead. A post-mortem examination disclosed the fact that a blood vessel had been ruptured by the excitement.

Dumfounded by the result of the unleashing of her affections, Susie was overcome by grief. Last night it was thought she may follow her mate to bear heaven.

Mystery of Intoxicated Cows Is Now Explained

TROPICO, CAL.—The cows thought it was a perfectly delightful tasting weed. So they ate and ate and ate and so on. But when the chemists analyzed the milk produced by a certain Tropico dairy company recently and ordered the proprietor arrested as a bootlegger, things began to happen. First of all, Tropico is dry—bone dry. It turned as arid as a sandhill several months ago. And liquor held by the police, taken in confiscation raids, had no place in the Tropico jail. The court ordered it destroyed.

Accordingly, the officers of the law took keg after keg of it, knocked out the heads of the barrels, and let the contents of barrels and bottles run down the gutters. However, it chanced that the gutters in Tropico are level affairs, and if there is enough liquid a good part of it usually runs "every which way." And it so happened that a large quantity of rich yellow liquor settled on the ground where a Tropico dairyman had pastured his cows.

And several weeks later the unsuspecting bovines chewed down a number of the tall weeds that, so it was found, were growing up in the pasture.

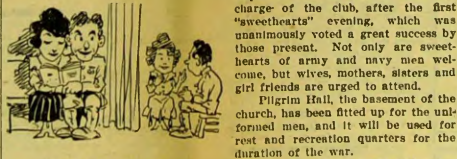

And—also—that is why the milk sold by the Tropico dairy had such a faintly satisfying odor, and taste.

Careful investigation of the milk revealed a certain small percentage of alcohol, it is said. The dumfounded cow owner so valiantly protested his innocence of any bootlegging scheme that an investigation of the feed of the cows subsequently was made, resulting in the discovery of the mysterious booze weed.

For want of a better name, residents of Tropico have named the weed "Intoxico." The cows have been taken out of the field where the weed was discovered and a careful watch of its growth is being recorded.

"Sweethearts' Evening" Proves Great Attraction

NEW YORK.—From now on every evening will be "sweethearts' evening" at the new Enlisted Men's club, in the Broadway Congregational tabernacle, at Fifty-sixth street and Broadway. This announcement was made by Capt. William R. Fearn, who has charge of the club, after the first "sweethearts' evening," which was unanimously voted a great success by those present. Not only are sweethearts of army and navy men welcome, but wives, mothers, sisters and girl friends are urged to attend.

"What I like best is to talk to a pretty girl," said one khaki-clad young man. "That is what all we fellows like best, only some of us haven't nerve enough to speak it out," he added in confiding to Captain Fearn.

The club is open from eleven o'clock in the morning to eleven o'clock at night, and at all times there are older women and men on hand who, in addition to trying to make it pleasant for the soldiers and seamen, will serve as chaperones.

There are four shower baths, and last Saturday 40 men used them. The army men take to water more than the navy men. There are several tables of billiards, and these can be used at any time except during Sunday services. There is a large library.

There are 40 small green tables with white tops and green chairs about them. Here, Paris style, meals are served. Dinner is 50 cents and luncheon 25 cents. Religion is tabooed, so that Jews and Catholics will feel as welcome as Protestants.

Peevish Parrot Makes Trouble for Its Owner

PHILADELPHIA.—There is a parrot on the third floor, back, of an apartment house that has displayed, according to testimony in the police court, some evidence of being a mischievous bird. The bird does not hesitate to re-monstrate in no mild language when vocal selections of neighboring tenants displease Mrs. Pauline Michelson, owner of the bird, acted as defendant in a summons case.

K. S. Jasper, tenant in the first floor front, was the complainant. He charged that the parrot's annoying attitude, Mrs. Michelson said that the bird only remonstrated when vocal selections rendered by Mr. Jasper as he awakes each morning are wafted through the shaft window. Mr. Jasper told the magistrate that he did not trifle with music, and he could hardly recall when the last note was uttered by his lips.

The magistrate knows that no parrot, no matter how innocent he may appear tripping about his cage, is limited in his vocabulary. Taking all phases of the case into consideration and resting his judicial head on his arm on the desk, he meditated for a while and finally announced that a parrot with an unlimited vocabulary should not be limited to the confines of a cage and he believed that it would improve the disposition of the parrot if it were allowed the freedom of the Michelson house.

The magistrate directed Mr. Michelson to release the bird if it wished to preserve the peace of the apartments. She consented.

and adj scri a co da bre noobs vacates tireless, especially to girls of Lenora's type, so she rummaged through the magazine rack by her side in search of something of interest. A magazine fell from the center of the pile and opened at her feet. Lenora gave an exclamation of disapproval as she saw her own face looking at her from the open page.

Would that that article and picture might vanish from her sight, she wished, as she kicked the book closed. It was the most idiotic thing she had ever read. She hadn't thought that at first, but now she felt it nearly every minute of the day. Why couldn't she forget it? She couldn't, no matter how hard she tried, for she had been so proud of it at first; and she had read it so many times it was impressed on her memory for all time to come. The paragraph under her picture was the one that galled her most. The article was practically all about her father, but that one paragraph about herself was the one she hated. She could see it in her mind's eye staring out at her morning, noon and night. "Miss Lenora Montrose, the charming young lady pictured above, only daughter of Doctor Montrose, the well-known health specialist, falls in line with her father's views on the osculatory practice. The young man who wins her will be denied the privilege of kissing his bride, she states emphatically. Doctor Montrose is endeavoring to secure legislation to make kissing illegal."

However she could have made such a statement for publication she could not see now, but she had made it, and there was no denying it. It was barely five months before that she had given the interview to the magazine writer in connection with the article about her father. She was just fresh from school and hadn't thought of anything but books and what a great man her father was. How was she to know that some day she would want to be kissed?

Her change of views all came about because of the new chauffeur. That was another thing to worry about—she was in love with a chauffeur. The very thought of it made her blush. To think of her, the daughter of one of the leading scientists of the day, in love with a chauffeur. Here her sentiment got the best of her pride. Dick Cochrane was not a common chauffeur—far from it. He was the very finest chauffeur and the best looking young man she had ever known. He showed refinement and education, too, that bewildered her. Who was Dick and where did he come from? She asked herself a dozen times a day. She was sure there was a romance connected with him and she was going to find out all about it. Perhaps it was better she did not know. Why in the world couldn't he tell her? He would, she was sure, when he asked her to marry him. He had been on the point of asking her on two or three occasions but he hadn't. Why hadn't he? Was it for the same reason that he didn't kiss her? He had been on the point of kissing her on more than two or three occasions and had always stopped himself. She knew that he knew of the magazine articles and that was what caused him to refrain. How she hated that article! All her pent-up feeling was exerted in one kick at the magazine at her feet and it shot from the veranda and lit at the feet of Dick Cochrane as he rounded the corner of the house.

"Who's throwing magazines at me?" he called out, as he picked it up. He caught sight of Lenora's flushed face and whistled softly. "What has been disturbing you, Nora?" he asked. He was the only one who had ever dared idiot. I can't understand father trying about such trivial things. There are so many big things in the world to engage his attention. "Then you do think kissing is all?" he asked hopefully. "You made such a statement—this is a lie!"

"I did make that statement. The article was true then, but I've changed my views. I was only a silly girl then."

"This magazine is only three months old," he said, as he looked at the date. "Hasn't your change of views been rather sudden?"

"I gave that interview two months before that issue was published. That was before I knew you."

"Has our acquaintance had anything to do with your change of mind?" he smiled.

"You have never kissed me." She was on the defensive in a minute.

"No. I have never dared. You see, I am only your father's chauffeur."

"That is just what I want to hear. Was it because of the article?" she asked.

Dick scolded the veranda railing and stood by her side.

"Before I answer that question will you let me kiss you?" he asked eagerly.

Lenora blushed, but she did not refuse. That was all the answer Dick needed.

"Yes," he said, as he sat down beside her. "I can tell you what I have wanted to tell you for the past month. It was not because of that article that I didn't kiss you, but it was because of that I did. By so doing I have won a wager of five thousand dollars."

"What?" Lenora gasped. "Five thousand dollars for kissing me?"

"Yes," he laughed.

"I am not a chauffeur in reality; in fact, I am far from it. I have three chauffeurs of my own."

"I knew it!" Lenora cried, as she jumped to her feet. "You have deceived me. You have been trifling with my affections, just to win five thousand dollars. How cruel of you!"

There was an outburst of tears before she could start for the house.

"Stop, Nora!" Dick interceded, seriously. "I have something more to say."

He had almost to drag her back to the chair. "If you will give me a chance I will set everything right," he pleaded. "I did come to trifle with your affections. Your picture and the article came under discussion at my club, and I got mixed up in an argument about it that resulted in the wager being made. I guaranteed to kiss you, without using force, before three months were over. Tomorrow is the last day. I was beginning to think that I was going to lose out, too. You see, when I made the wager I didn't figure on falling in love with you. If it hadn't been for that I would have stolen a kiss long ago, but every time I had half an opportunity I changed my mind. I respected you and what you believed in too much for anything like that. I do love you, Nora, and I want to marry you. Didn't my kiss tell you that?"

"I have heard it said that kisses say a lot," she replied, "but I haven't had enough of them to quite understand their language."

"Suppose I teach it to you," he suggested, planting a sample lesson on her lips.

Mongolian Horse Racing.
Perhaps the prohibition of horse racing would be more deeply resented in Mongolia than in any other country of the world. There it ranks as the favorite pastime of all classes, including the Buddhist clergy, who number fully one third of the total population. The races are never under ten miles, and the Mongolian "derby" is a contest over thirty miles of rough steps. When C. W. Campbell, of the Chinese consular service, traveled through Mongolia in 1902 he witnessed a race meeting which was presided over by the local aviator, most of the competing ponies being owned by lamas. The great races which take place yearly at Urga are held under the direct patronage of the lama pope of Mongolia, who becomes the owner of all the winners. A horse race with a bishop in the judge's box, a public chiefly clerical, no bookmakers or betting and nominal prizes is a phenomenon unlikely to be seen in this country.—Manchester (England) Guardian.

Waterproof Substitute for Leather.
The extremely high price of leather has been a factor in producing a new substitute which is already being used extensively in making workmen's gloves and other articles, and is proving to be more durable than the split leather used for that purpose, says an article in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Unlike leather, this substitute does not harden after being wet, but dries soft and pliable.

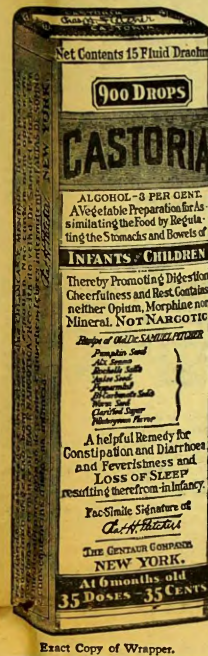

Flattery That Failed.
"Your daughter has a beautiful voice." "That ain't my daughter singing now. That's the windmill outside squeaking. I told Pa to grease that thing a week ago."

A Great Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Extracts from Letters by Grateful Parents to Chas. H. Fletcher.

G. J. English, of Springfield, Mass., says: "It was your Castoria that saved my child."
Mrs. Mary McGinnis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "We have given our baby your Castoria ever since she was born, and we recommend it to all mothers."
N. E. Calmes, of Marion, Ky., says: "You have the best medicine in the world, as I have given your Castoria to my babies from first to last."
Mrs. Albert Ugusky, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., says: "As I have had your Castoria in use for nearly three years, I am pleased to say it is just as represented. My children are both well and happy—thanks to Castoria."
R. P. Stockton, of New Orleans, La., says: "We began giving your Castoria to our baby when he was eight days old and have kept it up ever since, never having had to give any other medicine."
Mrs. Delph Hornbuckle, of Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We commenced giving your Castoria to our baby when she was four weeks old. She is now seven months and weighs 15½ pounds. Everyone remarks 'What a healthy looking baby.' We give Castoria credit for it."

CATCH THE IDEA?

WHAT CAN WE DO?

Surgeons General Gorgas and Hurlst-ed of the army and navy, have ap-pealed to the American Red Cross to recruit 25,000 nurses in a campaign which began June 3. The Red Cross has issued several pamphlets urging trained nurses to enroll for war service and every trained nurse in this country should answer the call. It may be months before some nurses may be called to the service and many may not be called at all, but all should register. Then the government can sift out the 25,000 that it needs at once.

It is stated that 70 per cent of the registered nurses in America are in private employment—that is, not in institutions. The public must reduce its calls upon trained nurses and employ practical nurses instead so as to re-lease these young women for war service.

How to Enroll as a Red Cross Nurse.

Nurses desiring general information regarding Red Cross work should ad-dress: Department of Nursing, Amer-ican Red Cross, Washington, D. C. Or applications may be made through any local Red Cross chapter. Nurses residing in the central division of the country may send direct to Red Cross Central Division, 180 North Wabash avenue, Chicago, Ill.

The Duties of a Red Cross Nurse.

"Red Cross nurses assigned to military hospitals are charged with the nursing care of the sick and wounded of the army and navy and become temporarily members of the army and navy corps. They are sub-ject to all the rules and regulations governing the service. They are re-sponsible to the chief nurse of the Army and Navy Nurse corps under the commanding officer of the hospital to which they are assigned and are expected to accept her authority with-out question."

Requirements for Red Cross Nursing Service.

"To be eligible for enrollment a nurse must be a graduate of a re-cognized school for nurses, giving at least two years' course of training in a general hospital. In states where registration is provided by law, an applicant, to be eligible for enrollment must be registered. She must be at least twenty-one years of age."

Physical Standards.
"During the period of the war a physical examination certificate should be filed with other application papers at the time of enrollment."

What Recreational Features Are There?

Leaves of absence are granted from time to time as the exigencies of the service permit. The surgeon general's office is making every effort to pro-vide comfortable living quarters for the nurses. The Red Cross has com-pleted plans for the building of a house for nurses at every army camp in the United States. These houses will consist of an assembly hall, li-brary, sewing room and kitchen, and will add greatly to the comfort of the nurses. The assembly hall has been so planned as to make it suitable for dancing, receptions, a lounging room and the showing of motion pictures.

Compensation.

The minimum salary for service in the United States is $50 per month, and $60 monthly for service abroad, with increased pay for chief nurses. Maintenance is provided for. Special salary arrangements are made where maintenance is not provided.

"Legislation is now pending before congress which if passed will provide definite rank for nurses, with increas-es in pay."

The above quotations are taken from a booklet entitled "A Book of Information for Graduate Nurses."

IN FASHION LAND

A touch of black makes the all-white costume becoming.

Very little trimming appears on sepa-rate skirts nowadays.

The all-in-one, or waitress, gown, has become permanent.

Pointed overskirts are a feature of the new evening dresses.

It's an even race now between the Eton and wrist length jacket.

A smart suit of oyster-white silk poplin is trimmed with foulard.

And still the jerseys come in fiber, silk, wool and novelty weaves.

Worn in Her Light Canoe

When Miss America goes canoeing she takes it for granted that she may have to swim as well as paddle. It's a foregone conclusion that all well-regu-lated canoes turn turtle occasionally, and this lends spice to the sport and to the clothes worn for it. Here is a one-piece dress for a fair canoeist, made of black and white silk in a snappy design, that is tough to lure an amateur into the most treacherous of crafts. It is not a regulation swim-ming suit, but canoes are not sup-posed to venture into dangerous wa-ters and it will answer for swimming—if swim she must.

It is made with a bodice with short sleeves cut in one with it, joined to a wide bifurcated skirt much like bloom-ers. It opens the left front to a point a little below the waistline and fastens with snap fasteners. Narrow black silk braid is used for binding the sleeves and belt and finishes the neck opening, where it supports itself in a small square at the back and front, merely for the sake of orna-ment. It is applied to each side of the skirt in the same way, with the squares larger.

Gray ribbed stockings with black stripes, and black sandals, show the details of this outfit to be carefully chosen. It is topped off with a rubber cap and this should be in a bright col-or—red, or green, or yellow, so that it cannot be easily lost sight of if its wearer is obliged to swim and right her canoe.

Besides silk, mohair is a splendid fabric for canoeing and bathing dress-es. It sheds water quickly and is wiry and strong. Army or navy blue, with white braid is a familiar combination that never grows tiresome, and this material has no match for durability.

Julia B. Bostwick

Bathes and Girdles Mode.

Bathes and wide girdles are an im-portant accessory of many of the new-est gowns. In girdles, the wide crush-ed styles made of fabric or of ribbon are favored, being twisted twice around the waist and buttoned on either side. Wide, draped girdles of head-some broadened ribbon are also employ-ed, especially across the front of a gown. Checked and plaid tiffets are very good for silk dresses for summer. The light colors used in them make a welcome relief from the rather somber colors of our suits and street dresses or cloths.

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, dizziness, headache, nervousness or "the blues" should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

HINGHAM HAPPENINGS

A memorial service for Major Edward Hall Cole, United States Marine Corps, who died in France June 18, as a result of wounds received while leading an attack on a German machine gun position, was conducted in the New North Unitarian church last Sunday afternoon.

Miss A. Eleanor Woodside presided at the organ, and George Hills of Boston, a life-long friend of Major Cole, sang "Lead Kindly Light." At the close of the service, Trumpeter William A. Hagensick of the U. S. M. C. Barracks at West Hingham sounded taps.

The public was flanked on both sides by United States flags, the State flag and a service flag. The service began with a procession by a squad of marines in full uniform from the station at West Hingham. They were in command of Capt. J. E. McDonald and led by Rev. George F. Spurr, pastor of the church, reciting, "When the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord." The service consisted of the reading of the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee," a prayer and short address by Rev. Dr. Spurr.

Dr. Spurr said in closing, "I am thankful that God raised up such a man as Major Cole, a soldier worthy in every way of the respect of all who follow him. I pray we may remain at home may do our full duty."

Mrs. Cole and her two sons, friends, town officials, veterans of the G. A. R. and members of a Company 14th Regiment Home Guards attended the service.

Charles Henry Lane, who has just been appointed Major in the Adjutant General's Department and who will report for duty at the Adjutant General's office July 8, was born in Hingham 35 years ago, and makes his summer home there, where his wife and three children are now staying. Major Lane has long been interested in military affairs and for the past year has been an instructor at the Harvard R. O. T. C. in Cambridge. He graduated from Harvard in 1904 and immediately entered the publishing house of Ginn & Co. For the past several years he has been director of the Harvard University Press. For a number of years he was a member of the National Guard, Coast Artillery Corps, and in that organization worked his way up from a private to the rank of lieutenant.

Arthur W. Burr has been appointed registration agent for the unemployed for the town of Hingham. Men between the ages of 18 and 50 years should begin to register July 13; those men should use every means to find employment before the registration date.

The Jitney dance which was held Wednesday last at the town hall was a great success.

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Hoyt left Hingham last week to spend July and August in Vermont.

Harbor Master Taft, with a few companions from Foley's Beach Colony captured a seal of Hallow's, who was something last Thursday night.

The Hingham Y. M. C. A. had a very small attendance July 3 last.

Mrs. O. J. Botting of Hingham Centre is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family at West Newton. Hingham held a meeting Tuesday evening at the State Armory and tendered a reception to Del Bressanah, a member of old Company K, now the 10th regiment. The hall was trimmed with American flags, greens and roses. Major Bouve escorted Captain Rollins to the platform, and the selection of "The Army" followed with the singing of "The Hymn of the Armory" and Guy A. Ham.

The meeting opened by the orchestra playing the "Star Spangled Banner," prayer was offered by Father White, a few brief remarks from Del Bressanah, and then Captain Rollins for nearly an hour told the large gathering just how the boys were over there, the improvement that the war was making of the boys, and the vast change in the attitude that would be noticed on their return home.

Chaplain Rollins also tried to make it plain to the parents and friends of the boys over there that they did not need money, and not on any consideration to sent it, because everything that they needed was furnished aside from their own spending money, and the thought that he wished to leave with the people was that the war was producing a democracy, and also that the moral conditions of our boys were of a high standard.

Guy A. Ham, known as the silver-tongued orator, was the next speaker, and was, as he always is, very interesting. The floor was then cleared and dancing was enjoyed until 12:30.

Three of the folks of Hampton Hill, it is said, went to the beach to get an yeast cake to make a cake, being unable to secure a yeast cake, they came home with a loaf.

This item was given to the writer by a gentleman who always keeps an eye near the rock of truth, as his vivid imagination will tell him.

Mr. E. Edward Woodson, who has just opened his cottage on Hampton Hill, is a resident of Washington, D. C., and is visiting his son, Mr. J. H. Hennessey, at his villa.

Mr. J. Driscoll, better known as "Bill," is self-appointed special police and fireman. He keeps his wife constantly in front of his house ready for instant response to any and every emergency call. His motto is "Service first" and "speed."

It is reported that "Min" likes the "hook and eye."

It is also reported by one who knows that Mr. J. H. Hennessey is nothing if not patriotic. On Fourth of July, in lieu of fireworks, which were forbidden, Mr. H. painted the barn red. He was bound to celebrate somehow.

The above items all came as letters to the office, telegraphic or otherwise messages and have not been related.

RED CROSS AT SCITUATE.

Wednesday evening was harvest night for the Red Cross fund at Scituate Harbor, where a dance for the benefit of the society was given at the Scituate Women's Club, under the able direction of Mrs. John Alden and Miss Margery Curtis.

Special guests of the evening were students from the Training School of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, including C. M. Turner, C. M. Graves, R. L. Bartz, H. G. Falsely, E. S. Day, C. E. Davis, C. G. Holt, L. S. McGarty, H. R. Tarkenton, J. B. Carrington. They were entertained over the festivities by the Scituate matrons, including among their hostesses Mrs. Collin Slayton, Mrs. C. F. Gifford and Mrs. E. C. Holt.

Prominent among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennelly, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Comfort, and Mrs. W. J. Allen. Also Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bonney, Mr. and Mrs. Collin Slayton, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holt, Dr. and Mrs. John Alden, Mrs. Frank Cole, Miss Alice Cole, Miss Patricia Hannigan, Miss Mabel Smith, Mrs. Juliet Zieg, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Gifford, Miss Charlotte Glover and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bonney.

Following a decision by Maj. Lake that the work on the new testing grounds of the government at Scituate will be done under open-shop conditions, the agents of the Building Trades of Greater Boston and Quincy voted to "keep union mechanics under their jurisdiction away from the job."

According to Business Agent Chadwick of the iron workers, this does not mean that the trades here will do anything to interfere with the Scituate job, but that their men will not be allowed to work on it. He said the unions pledged themselves to furnish men for the Scituate job in a conference some time ago with government representatives and contractors and were given to understand that the job would be done under closed shop conditions.

To Scituate belongs the distinction of having the youngest branch of the Red Cross, this little group having started on Monday, June 24. It was organized with Miss Annie G. Kelly of Cambridge, Mrs. J. M. Francis Brier of Chestnut Hill, and Mrs. Miss Fannie Northrup Murray of Scituate secretary.

Rooms have been donated for the use of the branch by John Cummings in Cummings Hall and each day the workers meet to carry on their excellent work from 10 in the morning until noon and from 2 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Saturday is the shortest session the working hours of the afternoon being omitted on that day.

Already there are some sixty registered members and a hundred will soon be on registration once the summer colony is in full residence. All workers have been warmly welcomed and the efforts of their efforts in the short period given up to the work has been pleasantly surprising.

Dressings, neat piles of warm, soft woolens and boxes of supplies have not at all measured the efforts of the energetic leaders of this infant branch. The past week has added materially to the fund of the branch by the receipts of the food sale on the national holiday on the lawn of Mrs. Alfred Cole's home under the direction of Mrs. John Alden, and by the dancing party given on the Holiday eve.

Not many changes have been registered in the list of visitors who yearly come back to their bungalows and pretty summer homes along this hospitable shore, this resort holding its sojourners by reason of its combined appeal of country and seashore.

Miss Murphy of Ashmont is a guest of Miss Nellie Murphy.

Occupying their cottage on Jericho Beach are Mr. and Mrs. Parker Keith of Somerville.

Willow street sojourners are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Pitman of Boston, they having taken one of the Welch cottages for the season.

C. H. Ryder of Middleboro and his household are established at their cottage on Willow street.

Included in the Dorchester contingent for a season's stay are George A. Eastman and his family. They have opened their shore home on Jericho road.

Additions to the large Boston colony along the Jericho section include Mr. and Mrs. William B. Trask, who are occupying the Dr. George residence. Dr. and Mrs. George, who were yearly members of the summer contingent, will be much missed from the festivities this summer both being popular and prominent members of the Boston group. Dr. George is now in service.

Rivermore cottagers include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hale and their family. They closed their Winchester home early in the season, arriving for their long outing in advance of the holiday.

The Mabel cottage at Rivermore is occupied for this summer by W. B. MacBee and his household. They are registered from Providence.

West Boston residents this season to join the pretty colony at Rivermore are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest James and their daughter, Catherine J. James.

Included among the hostesses of the week is Mrs. Walter Comfort of the Third Cliff colony who had as her guest Miss Margery Blauvelt of New York.

Back home on the Third Cliff has been taken for the season by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennelly and their family. They are of the Western contingent.

at the resort, coming here from their St. Louis home. Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Dotter and their family have come to their Rivermoor cottage for the season. They arrived early in the season from their Brooklyn home.

Miss Doris Holt of the settlement at the Third Cliff is hostess for the coming weeks for Mrs. Horace Ayres, Jr. of Hyde Park. Hitherto road sojourners include Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Healy and their family of Dorchester.

The Collection of "Slow" Telephone Accounts

THE PURPOSE OF THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is to show that it is desirable, particularly at this time, to save the time and labor that is expended in collecting bills that remain unpaid after the lapse of a reasonable period of time.

BILLS ARE DUE when rendered on the first day of each month, and while most telephone accounts are paid promptly, there are a number of "slow" accounts that require labor, time and expense that might better be devoted to other work that is more directly in the interest of the public's telephone service.

WE BELEIVE that this method of bringing the matter to the attention of the public, this frank and open discussion of our aims, is all that is necessary to secure proper understanding and co-operation.
